KEHILLAS FEDERATION

Rabbi Guttentag and Avi Cohen with the Hagolas Keilim team

Bochurim learning with Rabbi Guttentag at their training session

Last Sunday afternoon, with the sunshine putting in a rare appearance, Kehillas Federation once again ran its very popular Pre-Pesach Hagolas Keilim event at Beis Hamedrash Nishmas Yisroel. Run under the auspices of the organisation's 'Kehilla Services' department, it first launched before Pesach 2016. The event has run every year since (apart from 2020, when Kehillas Federation instead distributed invaluable instructions for a Covid-style at home hagola) and was this year attended by some 200 families and individuals from across London.

Overseen and managed by Director of Certification for Kehillas and KF Kosher, Rabbi Yisroel Moshe Guttentag, the event was supported by a team of six bochurim, keen to use part of their bein hazmanim for the good of the tzibbur. The organisation's Property & Projects Manager Avi Cohen was also on-hand to ensure that everything ran smoothly, with the safety of all involved a priority. The bochurim attended a training session at the Kehillas Federation offices last week, where they learnt the halochos of hagola together with Rabbi Guttentag and received a comprehensive health and safety briefing.

Attendance at the event was managed by an innovative booking system, which ensured the flow of foot traffic was kept to a minimum and enabled some people to complete the entire process within minutes. On arrival, all items for hagola were checked by Rabbi Guttentag, and where necessary sent to the cleaning station, to ensure that the items were 100% ready for hagola k'das uk'din. After being checked once more, any items that needed kashering via heat were sent to the libun station, while other keilim were ready to be dipped into the bubbling water for hagola! Recently, Kehillas Federation invested in a 'bitumen pot', ordinarily used to heat tar for roadworks, but in this case, ideal for ensuring the water remained at a steady boil all afternoon, with no time wasted waiting for it to reheat.

Rabbi Guttentag commented: "It is so special to be part of the kehilla's pre-Yom Tov preparations. The buzz and lovely atmosphere during the afternoon have become an integral part of the pre-Yom Yov experience for many and it is a privilege to be able to play a role in this unique Kehilla Service."

SEED UK

Seed organised a Weekend Away that attracted over 200 people for an unforgettable experience of community, spiritual growth, and family bonding. From the moment the weekend kicked off, it was clear that this wasn't just an ordinary gathering, but a celebration of shared values and connectionsExclusively hiring the Woodland Grange Hotel, the weekend was complete with attentive babysitters and entertainers; so whilst the youngest members were well taken care of, the adults were able to fully engage in a huge variety of inspirational talks, fun activities and interesting sessions. With a 24/7 refreshment bar, and cocktails after Friday Night dinner, and a Sunday BBQ-style lunch, participants were full of praise for the event. One participant said "It exceeded our expectations and was a spiritual, uplifting and special weekend for the whole family".

Rabbi Adam Edwards, the organiser, said "the weekend was a tremendous synthesis of a great atmosphere, amazing food and a jam-packed schedule for both the parents and kids that engaged and inspired."
